YOUR MASTER PLAN FOR CONVENTION HOUSING

Travel Planners eliminates the hassles and hazards of transitioning to a new housing provider.

“Switching providers is an extra job I just don’t need.”

We agree. So Travel Planners will help with all the details. Our team can integrate with your staff to function as your full-service housing department. If you like, we can even coordinate contact with hotels. For you, it’s life as usual.

“I’m not willing to renegotiate 6 years’ worth of contracts.”

There’s no need to start over. Travel Planners can administer your contracts “as is.” Of course, we’ll also work closely with you to handle any minor modifications that the changeover entails.

“I can’t afford to upset my VIPs.”

We’ll take a personal, proactive approach and introduce ourselves to your most important constituents. Our dedicated group specialists are experienced hand-holders, problem-solvers and diplomats.

“I’m worried that a switch will cost too much.”

While Travel Planners will deliver all the benefits of your Master Plan at no added cost, we understand that you may incur administrative expenses. We’ll help you address those issues to make sure switching makes financial sense for you.

“I have to convince people that change is good.”

We appreciate your personal stake in recommending a new housing provider. You can count on Travel Planners to support you fully with staff and information. We’ll help you in any way to gain the approval of all stakeholders in your organization.

“Our old housing provider’s name is everywhere.”

Your Travel Planners Program Executive and eMarketing Expert will coordinate the process of promoting the change to attendees and exhibitors. Our complete marketing package will be adapted to your needs at no cost.

“It must be hard to manage overlapping providers.”

You’ll be surprised how smoothly the hand-off goes. Close cooperation between old and new companies is the rule rather than the exception. Travel Planners has long experience in making sure transitions are smooth and hassle-free.

We want to hold your hand.

Warm, high-touch customer service is an important element of your Master Plan.

You’ll discover that we already have long, close relationships with the hotels in your program. Our reservation agents – including specially trained teams assigned to VIPs and groups – are the industry’s most professional.

From initial planning to the service desk we staff at your event, your dedicated team will come through with a smile and results.

“Travel Planners is a great extension of my conference team. Our 100+ hotel lottery groups look forward to working with the same contact each year. And I’m most happy knowing that my Program Executive is always available. It’s like she works here in my office with me!”
